A Game Preserve in Sussex Co. Dr. Dalrymple, of Branchville N. J., some time ago purchased of the Ball estate, a lake of goodly size lying south west of Culvert's lake a short distance, and known as Long Pond. His purchase included a considerable tract of forest land surrounding the pond. A company of 25 stockholders has been organized, and it is proposed to fence the whole with an impenetrable fence, and to keep in the enclosure all the most native varieties of game. The contract has been given out, we understand, for the fence, and a broad driveway is to be constructed from the main road near Culvert's lake to the pond. There is no doubt but in the near future the site for a cottage on the shore of Culvert's lake is going to be valuable property for the rapidly with which lakes are being built for summer resorts are passing into private ownership will soon make Culvert's the only one to which the general public can have access in Sussex County.—Ex.

Of Interest to Stamp Collectors.

Stamp-collecting boys and girls will be interested in the plan that is now proposed to let all cities of the United States containing 100,000 or more inhabitants have postage stamps of special design. These stamps will commemorate some notable historical event, or resident of that city, at whose request the government will provide them, and the scheme is carried out in many of our great cities. It means, of course, a great deal more knowledge and interest for stamp collectors.—Stroudsburg Times.

As will be seen by the vote following the people are indulging in the somewhat peculiar sensation in this county, of electing to office some of the men best fitted in their judgment to fill them. Party ties are strong but the result shows that the FARM NOTES.

Last season many people hereabouts lost their hogs. The disease seemed to be cholera. Hotel will appear to contain some dangerous element, and some pork raisers refuse to take it unless orange peel is kept out of it. Sick hogs should not be left with well ones for a moment after the discovery is made. Beer costs the saloon man about $4 a barrel. He retails it, five cents a glass for $30. Who gets rich on the $24 and who poor? Why is not this a good time to sow clover seed? It will go deeply in the frost cracks when the snow goes off, and root well before it comes up, and is thus preserved from destruction by the late frosts. If you are going to buy nursery stock this spring order now, and don't be persuaded into buying any thing older than two years.

A Story and a Moral.

Carle was a misshapen dwarf of Arthur's Court. Day by day for long years he besought the knights to smite off his head, but they loved him, and they would not have harmed a hair of his head. One day he came to Gawaine, and said, "I pray thee, Gawaine, strike off my head," and Gawaine said, "nay I love thee too much. But when he saw tears on the poor creature's face moved by a great impulse he smote, and there rose up not the deformed Carle but Sir Carille handsomest of the knights, who had been a victim of a cruel enchantment which could be overcome only when some friend should love him enough to smite. The moral is that not one of us grows to his full stature till friendship is honest enough and tender enough to break with wounds if need be, the spell of our own vanity and insulation.

Legs Must be Covered.

The Yale faculty has issued an edict that hereafter all students training for the athletic teams must wear trousers when running through the public streets for exercise. The city authorities requested that students training for teams should wear more clothing. A runaway occurred a few weeks ago by a team becoming frightened at a number of students running bare legged through one of the streets, hence the request. The students are preparing to use knickerbockers and long stockings.

A BITTER CHURCH FIGHT.

Lively Times in the N. E. Church at Centerville N. J.

What is called a "Religious war" but one in which there seems to be more of the evil spirit than religion is exciting the people of Centerville in N. J. Just what the difficulty is we do not know, but it seems to have culminated last Friday afternoon when a meeting was held for the election of trustees for the next year. There are two factions, one apparently upholding the pastor Rev. C. W. Deming, and the other opposing. The opponents seemed to be in the majority and elected their trustees, whereupon Mr. Deming and his followers after much unseemly wrangling, held a meeting and elected another set. It cannot make much difference as to the right or wrong of the matter so far as the church is concerned. Probably both sides have been hasty and indulged in ill-considered action. What we call attention to is the evil which is wrought by such contentions. A minister may preach the gospel of peace, and a congregation may pray that the sun of righteousness shall shine on them, but such preaching and praying is mockery when the devil of strife, contention and open hostility invades a church, and causes such unseemly conduct. If a minister divides his congregation his future usefulness among that people is ended, and rather than lead an opposing column to the battle, he would much better step down and out. His continued presence and aggressiveness only makes the matter worse. Church people have enough evil to oppose without quarreling and wrangling among themselves.

NOW IT IS CAMPHOR.

The Decline is Attributed to "Bears" in the Market.

About everything has been in a trust, and now it seems camphor has the attention of a syndicate, which has its headquarters in London, and is preparing to corner the market. A year ago refined camphor sold at 34 cents per pound, since then it has sold for 64, and is now about 60, this decline is attributed to "bears" in the market, nearly all the crude camphor of commerce is grown in Japan and Formosa. Formerly it was produced in Sumatra, Bornea and other parts of the Indies and China, but lately they have not been factors in production. Camphor trees are of the evergreen variety. Symmetrical in proportion, blossoming with white flowers and bearing red berries. The trees attain great age some being 300 years old and measuring fifteen feet in diameter. The Formosa product is inferior to that of Japan, and as Formosa is inhabited largely by savages, and the production of crude camphor is attended with much danger, Japan practically supplies the world. The amount exported from that country averages about five million pounds, one-fourth comes to this country and the remainder is consumed in Europe. It must be refined before it is ready for consumption. This process was until two years ago confined to European and American refineries, but the Japs have now entered the market, and are establishing refineries in that country.

Art of Being to Bed.

(From the Boston Traveler.) There is a ridiculous fellow over in London who is trying to convince people that nobody understands the art of going to bed. This may be true of England, where they say people can't keep clean without tubbing five times a day, but it isn't true in this country, where it would be voted by a very large majority that the art which is not understood is that of "getting up."

By request Congressman Joseph J. Hart.

of this district, has introduced a bill into the House of Representatives to change the pay and rating of the machinists employed in the United States Navy. The measure was referred to the Committee on Naval Affairs.

REPUBLICANS GAIN IN THIS STATE.

Philadelphia Gives Kinsey for Solicitor 80,000 Majority.

Easton has elected a Republican mayor by over 600 majority and has a majority in council. It is the most complete victory the Republicans have ever won in that city. Pittsburg, Chester, Harrisburg, Lancaster, Scranton, Allentown and many other places, all indicate large gain for the G. O. P. and even the "one green spot" is fast fading, and will soon be a true blue.

BRIEF MENTION.

Senator Quay seems to be a Presidential possibility. The Economites a society in western Pennsylvania also known as the Harmony Society, sank three hundred and fifty thousand dollars in one railroad venture. There are only four male members in the Society. The Standard is a sprightly, clean looking little sheet published by the students of Rockland Collegiate Institute at Nyack N. Y., of which Frank W. Cross of this place is the Editor in Chief. The police of Albany N. Y., raided a disorderly house a few nights ago, and captured among others, six members of the Legislature. They were taken to police headquarters. A marriage license was issued Feb. 18 by Prothonotary Westbrook to Frank S. Gunsals and Nena C. Quick of Matamoras. Paughbaughnaughque is actually the name of Middletown's tribe of Red Men. Wm. Padgett's show will not take place this week on account of sickness of some of the prominent characters. The phonographic concert Tuesday night in Brown's Hall was attended by a large audience. The wonderful instrument entertained amused and seemed to transport the listeners to the distant places where the several numbers had been originally given, so perfectly were they reproduced. To-morrow is a legal holiday being Washington's birthday. There will be services in the Presbyterian church this evening. All are invited.

A Sunday Mail.

By a recent contract with the department John Findlay will carry a mail from Milford on Sunday leaving here at 3 p. m. This is the first Sunday mail Milford ever had.

Death of Rev. J. F. Williams.

Wilkes-Barre, Feb. 18.—Rev. J. F. Williams, pastor of the Luzerne Methodist church, died at the hospital to-day of peritonitis. He fought on the Union side during the war and when it was over he went to Wyoming Seminary, where he was graduated and was afterward ordained for the ministry. He is survived by his widow and two children. Mr. Williams preached three years in the Kiptown church in Greene township this county from 1884 to 87, and his circuit included two Churches in Wayne county. He was also stationed at Hawley Wayne county for three years.

Married Feb. 20 at the home of Daniel Everett.

By Rev. G. S. Garretson, Sarah Everett, of Sandyston, to L. S. Merroll, of Montague. Daniel H. Fredmore, of the Brick House, filled his ice house on Tuesday Feb. 18 with ice from Linn Hornbeck's pond. The Rev. James A. McGowan, of Monticello, has been conducting a series of meetings in the Presbyterian church here this week. They have been well attended, and interest manifested in the able and eloquent sermons preached. Thursday evening next, Rev. G. E. Gillespie, of Port Jervis, will preach in the Presbyterian church here, a preparatory sermon to the communion service on Sunday March 1.

In the N. Y. World of Sunday the following appears among the incidents in society:

Mrs. E. Benjamin Ramsdell gave a reception Saturday afternoon at her home, No. 681 Lexington avenue. She was assisted in receiving by Mrs. T. M. Diabrus, Mrs. J. W. Parkhurst, Mrs. E. E. Quinler and the Misses A. Schoonover, Lila Van Etten, Miss Bessie Van Etten, Bessie Purdy, A. Warts, A. Arnold, D. Friscken, Bishop, Liking and Elizabeth Farbow.

Next introduces a Bill.

By request Congressman Joseph J. Hart, of this district, has introduced a bill into the House of Representatives to change the pay and rating of the machinists employed in the United States Navy. The measure was referred to the Committee on Naval Affairs.
